Soviet Naval Task Force in Cuban Port

25X1A

1. [ ] reported there had been [ ] of Cuba since arrival of the Soviet naval task force in Cienfuegos Port, the third Soviet flotilla to Cuba in the past year, but the [ ] The task force now at Cienfuegos includes a Kresta-I Guided Missile Light Cruiser (CLGM), a Kanin Guided Missile Destroyer (DDG), an Alligator Landing Ship Tank (LST), a Sura Buoy Tender (AGL), an Ugra Submarine Tender (AS), and the tanker Liyepaya. The Soviet task force originated at naval facilities in the Kola Gulf, USSR. All but the tanker and the buoy tender had been sighted at either Rosta Naval Base and Ship Repair Yard or at Severomorsk Naval Base [ ]

3. [redacted] revealed the entire Soviet naval task force in the same positions at Cienfuegos as [redacted] except that the AGL was backed up to the pier and was apparently on-loading or off-loading cube-like objects, possibly concrete. The two special-purpose barges were not seen clearly as coverage was hazy but two objects at the pier between the LST and the buoy tender are believed to be the barges.
